

My work is about relationships between people and their relationship with themselves- reflecting an inner psychology, an internal motivation. The human form is the object we, as humans, look at first. However, human form is only the shell that holds the deep complexities of our psychological inner lives. I explore our complex internal space as viewed from the outside external form. My work points to the life, confusions, and complexities of living within this body.

Cindy
Jackson

www.cjacksonsculpture.com

Cindy Jackson Yo-Yo Man 2011 cold cast bronze 52" tall x 45" wide x 42" deep

Cindy Jackson Falling Away 2011 bronze 72" tall x 48" wide x 36" deep

Cindy Jackson The Dancer 2011 bronze 38" x 24" x 12"

Cindy Jackson First Arrow (closeup) 2010 bronze 25" x 10" x 13"